'ANNA DANA' Seva at "The Pyramid Valley Spiritual Trust (India)"

Date: 26th September 2024.

Time: 9:30am to 5:30pm

Pyramid Valley International, a serene valley surrounded by greenery and small hills, is the perfect place for going into deep exploration within oneself. The 28-acre campus hosts the world's largest pyramid structure built solely for meditation.

'Pyramid Valley International' is a new age meditation and spiritual science serving individuals and organizations in their quest for holistic development. The 'Anna Dana' seva programme was intended to inculcate the habit of Philanthropy and Service. It is a traditional Indian practice of communal feeding where food is offered to everyone who needs it.

On September 26, 2024, students from Dayananda Sagar College of Arts, Science & Commerce visited Pyramid Valley International to participate in the Anna Damam initiative, aimed at providing meals to the needy inmates and visitors. The purpose of the visit was to engage students in community service by offering food to those in need and to cultivate a spirit of giving.

At the Anna Damam service, students served meals to individuals visiting the center, promoting values of compassion and generosity. It taught us about the importance of serving the less fortunate. The visit also included discussions about the significance of service and personal development through acts of kindness. The students reflected on their experiences and were encouraged to think critically about their roles in society.
