24.	Summary of the Event	The BBA Department organized a Faculty Development Programme on "Emotional Intelligence in Higher Education: Building Resilient and Inspiring Educators". It has focused on enhancing educators' emotional awareness, self-management and empathy in the academic environment. The programme highlighted the importance of emotional intelligence in managing workplace challenges and fostering positive relationships with students and colleagues. It also emphasized the role of emotionally intelligent educators in creating an inclusive, supportive and motivating learning environment. Participants gained insights into developing resilience, maintaining emotional balance, and effectively responding to challenging situations. Overall, the programme contributed to the professional and personal development of faculty members by equipping them with strategies to become resilient and inspiring educators.
